EASTER ISLAND A LAZY
MAN'S PARADISE

New York—If a daily train were operated on Easter Island, 2,300 miles off the coast of Chile, the natives never would get there at the station to see it pass, in accordance with Dr. William Bryan, who has recently graduated from the University of Hawaii, who arrived here on the steamer Santa Lucia, after scientific exploration of the South American island. Bryan said the 250 natives of Easter Island are not energetic. They are curious, for when his ship arrived there the first 18 months, it was greeted only by one man, seated on a box on deck, facing in the opposite direction. He did not even look around.

Bryan said he had obtained evidence that Juan Fernandez is still alive, though off the coast of one, was captured by land in Hawaii, more than 6,000 miles away. He said shell growth on both were identical.

Mexico City—"We are lost, good, gentleman!" These were Carranza's final words before his flight from the besieged trains in the early afternoon of May 14, while pausing momentarily before a crowd of revolutionaries a few miles east of San Marcos, according to a report in the New York Times. Carranza had been surrounded by what the special dispatches term "a very small cavalry force."

The fugitive president crossed the mountains, though while the Mexican railway was stopped a few moments to watch the revolutionary forces occupy the stalled trains, they disappeared among the mountains.

He arrived at the village of Chilpancingo, the coastal town nearest to the coast, where he was received by the then Vice of Coahuila, with the intention of hoarding a steamer at some small port and escaping from the country. Judging from the list of captured revolutionaries, he had received aid at the headquarters in Mexico City of the Liberal revolutionary government, a few are accompanying Carranza.

Among them is believed to be Luis Cabrera, Secretary of the Treasury; Gen. Francisco Murguia, commander of the train guards; Gen. Francisco Urquiza, Sub-secretary of War, and Ygnacio Bonillas, former ambassador to the United States.

Gold And Silver Bars.

An analysis of the gold held by the National Treasury shows that one of the trains shows a great quantity of gold, but comparatively little melted coin. Pastor Ruiz, Secretary of Agriculture, who was captured in the train, said that as far as he knew, the fumigations of the railroad had been stopped, and reached the point on record.
